The children of Littleham C of E Primary school have been finding ways of making people in isolation smile. They have been emailing in, letters, poems, drawings, jokes and work they have been doing at home and at school. I hope you enjoy them.

How do you get a squirrel to like you?
Act like a nut.

Dear Littleham School,
I miss my friends and the teachers at school and thought you might like this picture I drew for you. It is a picture of school with Miss Thornton, Mrs Roberts and Mr Glover.

Dear Keeping In Touch,
We thought we would cheer you up with our human body craft project from last term. We made it out of cardboard and plastic to learn about materials and then learnt about the human body by making organs for the body. It was a lot of fun!
Hope you are keeping safe and well and happy.

Why did the kid bring a ladder to school?
Because she wanted to go to high school

We are the Lions bubble.

"I like social distancing to help protect ourselves."
"I am sad that I can't see all of my friends though."

The children that have gone back to school are being taught in 'bubble groups'. This is so a small group of teachers and children can stay safe. I asked the Lions bubble how they were getting on.....

"I like it because I am taught by awesome teachers."
"We watch films during lunch time."
"I love playing football in P.E time."
"We love playing Scattergories (a word game) and 9 letters when we have to make words from 9 letters including a 9 letter word itself."
"On Friday afternoon, we play hide and seek games in the forest school."

Biography of Henry V, King of England. (1413-22)

Introduction

Henry of Monmouth was born on 16th September 1386. In 1413, He became King Henry V and went on to win a famous battle at Agincourt, where he crushed the French military. By 1420, he had conquered most of France and forced the French king to acknowledge him as heir to the French throne. He married Catherine of Valois and had one son.

Early Life

Henry was born in Monmouth in 1386, to his mother Mary de Bohun and his father Henry IV. He had three brothers: Thomas of Lancaster, John of Lancaster and Humphrey duke of Gloucester, and two sisters: Philippa of England and Blanche of England.

He became Prince of Wales on 10th of November 1399 and also inherited the titles: Duke of Lancaster, Duke of Cornwall, Earl of Chester and Duke of Aquitaine. These gave him great wealth, but also came with a lot of responsibilities. When Henry became 16 years old, he led his own army into Wales to fight against Owain Glyndwr and Henry 'Hotspur' Percy. During the battle, Henry was nearly killed by an arrow to the face, but he received special treatment by the royal doctor. The doctor used Honey and Alcohol to stop the wound from getting infected, then used his special tool to remove the arrow. The battle left Henry with severe facial scars, but also taught him some valuable lessons in warfare, which he would eventually use against the French.

I thought you might enjoy this amazing writing about Henry V from a Yr 5 boy.

Dear Boys and Girls,

Thank you for taking your time to write your letters to us. I enjoy hearing what you are doing to keep occupied during these times when we all have to stay at home and not see our friends. Your teachers must be very proud of you for doing your homework before playing in the garden or on your computer

I am very lucky to have trees in my garden and I get a lot of different kinds of birds to watch. Sometimes the two cats from next door sit under the bird feeders but the birds are very clever and fly away. I also enjoy music and have quite a selection of C Ds to play.

Lots of love to you all.

Eileen

Dear All,

It has been lovely to hear of your activities during lockdown and I have sent on your messages to over 120 people. Your kindness in thinking of others has been much appreciated - thank you!

Your drawings and jokes have kept us smiling and we hope that you have enjoyed doing and sending them as much as we have enjoyed seeing them. The rainbows have been wonderful and we hope to see lots of sunflowers in your gardens and windows soon!

Keep safe and happily busy through the summer and God bless you all.

Ian
