Monday	So this is the last week of the three little pigs – I know you were just getting in to it! Today can you look at the pictures and read the captions out loud to your child. First match the pictures and captions then put them in the right order. Good work boys and girls! (KEEP pictures for tomorrow)	Counting challenge: Please play the “three little pigs I Spy” game. You can encourage pre-schoolers to write the answers but the focus is on counting things together and developing observational skills.	Challenge for everyday this week is to learn these new little pigs songs: 1) Knock knock let me in 2) Pigs where are you I will video these for your entertainment ☺	Today's mark making and fine motor challenge: Make a rocking pig! You can click pic' for more instructions online. You will need: paper plate, pink paper, scissors, Glue stick and felt pens Have a go at it, it's easier than it looks!
Tuesday	Can you have a go with your child at writing your own version of the three little pigs. You can make your own cartoon strip or use the pictures from yesterday and writing frame from the school website. You should do this over two mornings... We would do 5 minutes bursts between playing at Nursery.	Counting challenge: Combined with today's Gross motor challenge. Let's do some keep fit counting you can use the prompt from the home learning or make up your own.	Can you make a model house. You could use twigs from your garden or straw from your guinea pigs ☺ Don't forget the Song challenge too!	Today's mark making challenge: Three little pigs story writing. Linked to Literacy.	Gross motor: Keep fit counting challenge sheet.
Wednesday	We would do 5 minutes bursts between playing at Nursery. Please remind/prompt your children of course but try and write down their answers and ideas. Encourage them to make their own marks too then write underneath what their writing says.	Counting challenge: Building block towers again today. Maybe you can make a tower to represent each number 0-5? 	On the website there is an activity “to be continued” it's an activity prompt for adults made by Starcatchers all about developing story n play... Have a go and let us know how it went. Also complete the Song challenge	Today's mark making challenge: Three little pigs story writing. Linked to Literacy.	Fine motor: Today's challenge is simple: Tie and untie knots in ribbon. For more info click here . Top tip if you think you don't have ribbon check in the shoulders of ladies tops!
Thursday	Using your wonderful story you have made over the last two days get your child to tell their story. PLEASE PLEASE video this precious moment and share it with us on Google classroom or via email	Counting challenge: Have a go at drawing some numbers (mark making challenge) and matching to a number of objects.	Please choose some of the activities from this week's mental health sheet. Also don't forget the song challenge.	Today's mark making challenge: Can you practice those numerals for maths and writing today please! 0 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10	Gross motor: click the picture
Friday	Today enjoy this lovely video of an alternative version of the three little pigs – The Three Little Wolves. Be sure to chat to your child and answer any questions and talk about how it was different to the Three Little Pigs. 	Counting challenge: Nice and easy one today you could do this when you go out for exercise or around the house. Give your child(ren) a list of numbers they have to hunt for and find. Where in the world will you find numbers? Can you send some photos to us at school? 	Learning about non-fiction texts. This is hard to do at home but in the home learning there are two non-fiction text about Pigs and Wolves. Please read these with your children. Learn some new facts and talk about how not all books are fairy tales and stories. Today please film your song challenge and share it with us.	Today's mark making challenge: Do some tinfoil art! You can paint on foil or use a blunt pencil to etch a picture on foil. 	Fine motor: Can you cut out some bricks using safe snips? Can you carefully make a brick house collage? This is great for fine Motor, Hand-eye coordination and scissor skills and safety too.
